book & movie when young

12:07:05 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I seen one of the movies and my sister got me the books for my birthday

12:07:05 From patricia lev to Host and Panelists:

school librarian

12:07:16 From Michelle Riley to Everyone:

Through the movies with Megan Follows

12:07:23 From Laura Weidenthal to Host and Panelists:

Read at sometime when young and then traveled to PEI as an adult in 2002. It was wonderful!

Long to go back.

12:07:31 From Megan Neel to Host and Panelists:

I fell in love with Anne as a girl watching Megan play her! My name is Megan and that just added to the fun of it all—I adored Anne's perspective and imagination! She sees such beauty in everything.

12:07:33 From Elizabeth Morgan to Host and Panelists:

I was introduced initially by a teacher reading the book aloud to us and then later on by the Sullivan, Megan Follows series.

12:07:43 From Haley Sherif to Host and Panelists:

I actually haven't read the book yet!!!

12:07:46 From Kelly Cabana to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

My grandmother introduced me and we watched the Megan Follows movies. I had read the first book but finished the remainder of the series over COVID

12:07:50 From Angela DeCoux to Everyone:

We were homeschooled and did a whole year unit study around the Anne books. it was incredible!!

12:07:56 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

I have been introduced to Anne of Green Gables since I was young. My parents both loved the movies so we would watch them often. Anne was also an inspiration to me for my dream to be an author. My Grandma also had older books that she owned of the series so I got the chance to read the books and loved them.

12:07:58 From Laura Weidenthal to Host and Panelists:

I need to read Anne of Green Gables again!

12:08:03 From Marie Saenger to Host and Panelists:

As an adult...my niece told me about the Megan Followes series, and I FELL IN LOVE with Anne of GG. After that, I read the books. Any time my daughter or I were sick at home with a cold, we'd watch the whole 8-hour series and drink many cups of tea.

12:08:11 From Michelle to Everyone:

I saw the movies first (1985 Follows version) and then read the book....fell in love! Also love Road to Avonlea series 🌸🌸🌸

12:08:13 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

We went to pick up a used bedroom set for me, and when I saw her daughter's books, the woman gave them all to me. The first two Anne volumes were there.

12:08:15 From Julie Viorel to Everyone:

Sounds like you have your dream job Katherine.

12:08:25 From Meganne Arens to Everyone:

I was in 4th grade when the Kevin Sullivan series came out on PBS - I was hooked immediately, watched it a million times and ordered the first book of the series through the Scholastic flier at school. ;) Have been a huge fan ever since.

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

12:08:29 From Kim Stewart to Everyone:

Would love to work or be part of the institute. Montgomery will be my main focus in my Master's.

12:08:30 From Laura Weidenthal to Host and Panelists:

Always return to the 1985 version

12:08:33 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

I read the Anne books when I was just child, maybe 10 or so, and I remember, how disappointed I was when reading first time how Anne accepted Gilbert - she had said she hated him! xD Later I loved him too, but I remember that first reaction. ;)

12:08:42 From Nicole Karwatka to Everyone:

I didn't get introduced to Anne until I was 30, but loved her instantly!

12:08:44 From Mary Williams to Host and Panelists:

The Megan Follows movies were my introduction to Anne Shirley.

12:08:44 From Adeline to Everyone:

My senior from school introduced me to the Anne books. I read the entire series in my 20's.

12:08:46 From Chloé Chouraqui to Host and Panelists:

The books aren't famous in France and I actually discovered the series thanks to the use of the sound « how I love being a woman » on Instagram reels so then a journey through Anne with an A and then the books 😊

12:08:52 From Emily Tonne to Host and Panelists:

My first introduction to Anne was watching the Megan Follows series when I was young, and it was always one of my favorites growing up. I read the books for the first time when I was 11, the year I got to play Aunt Josephine in my theatre group's play of Anne of Green Gables.

12:08:58 From Jill Riggs to Host and Panelists:

I learned about Anne as an adult from an older friend 💜

12:08:59 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

PBS fundraiser. My girls gathered with tea on my bed and watched..hoping to win the doll!

12:09:04 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I love how Anne had such a pure imagination

12:10:13 From Julianne Lawrence to Everyone:

I discovered the series in 6th grade and did a book report on the first book. Anne's resilience, imagination, and heart spoke to me as a young girl. Later on, I discovered the series with Meghan Follows and have been in love with the books and series since. It has been a dream to go to PEI. I am so excited to have that opportunity through the Enchanted Book Club.

12:11:12 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

...the Meghan Follows version. 🥰

12:11:17 From Erin Davis to Host and Panelists:

I was introduced to Anne as a child, I found very few books that I could connect with and wanted to keep reading so I read primarily books written by LMM & a local author named Janet Lunn ...over and over. And my daughters are now equally in love with Anne and all that is Avonlea. Beyond books, Gazebo TV is used more than Netflix in this house 😊 We love visiting PEI

12:14:01 From Julie Viorel to Everyone:

I was introduced to Anne by my grandmother and great aunt who belonged to a literary guild - what we call book clubs now. I love the series with Meghan Follows. Can't wait for our trip next fall!!

12:14:18 From Annie Wieler to Everyone:

I read Anne for the first time as an adult! LOVED it, and have reread it many times since 🥰

12:17:30 From Diane Souza to Everyone:

I've been an avid reader my entire life, but somehow missed reading the Anne books as a girl. Can you believe I only read the series this past summer at the age of 63? 😮 But, everything happens just as it should - I really needed the world of Anne of Green Gables to help me heal emotionally from a deep trauma this summer. I read the entire series and felt my heart heal more with each book as I went back in time and viewed the world through Anne's eyes.

12:18:04 From Denise Young to Everyone:

I saw her imagination as a survival mechanism, especially when she had no friends and was in an abusive household. It was her way to escape.

12:18:22 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

Luckily these books are not tied in any age. I re-read them every now and then and always love them.

12:18:25 From Lynnette Badger to Everyone:

Currently reading that one! I'm reading the books for the first time!

12:18:48 From Marci Forney to Everyone:

Diane Souza...I am so glad this book helped you through a difficult time.

12:19:53 From MX Payne to Host and Panelists:

I've only read Anne of Avonlea so I am keen on being able to properly start the series some time! :)

12:22:21 From Karen Ruiz to Everyone:

What do you think about how the death of Marila is portrayed in the book. I was disappointed that it wasn't very explicit, being Marila one of the principal character

12:23:03 From Sinta Borland to Everyone:

Anne is optimistic and resilience... so much positive energy which is always a great way to get through tough times.

12:23:38 From Sinta Borland to Everyone:

resilient

12:26:01 From Julie Viorel to Everyone:

As I young reader Anne's resilience and optimism really influenced who I am today. I found so much inspiration from the books I read.

12:28:40 From Julie Viorel to Everyone:

You can see similarities between Anne and the Story Girl.

12:29:39 From Erin Davis to Host and Panelists:

I feel that too, Julie <3 Anne was very influential to my way of looking at and responding to situations when I was growing up, I reference her often with my children as a role model, too. I found her so inspiring.

12:30:10 From Christine Cassidy to Host and Panelists:

My grandfather was from PEI, I've always wanted to visit there

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

12:30:35 From Mary Gaudet to Host and Panelists:

Cavendish is lovely to visit in the summer.

12:30:51 From Sinta Borland to Everyone:

I haven't read Story Girl yet... I'm anxious to read it and also to get to know L.M. Montgomery

12:31:44 From Haley Sherif to Host and Panelists:

Who would might you compare to a contemporary Anne? Is there a character in more contemporary fiction that reminds you of Anne?

12:32:13 From Kim Stewart to Everyone:

I almost like Emily more than Anne....eek! Love those books.

12:32:16 From Rainey Williams to Everyone:

This is so interesting!

12:32:47 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

I have not read that series yet. Probably because Anne is more of my heroine.

12:33:38 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

No wonder the movies seemed dark for Emily of New Moon.

12:34:49 From Meganne Arens to Everyone:

I've really loved the Emily series, definitely worth exploring if you haven't read them yet.

12:34:58 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

I agree, for me in young age Emily was way more relatable - not because of the dark and sad childhood, but for the writer part.

12:35:06 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

Yes, I will have to look those up thanks for the info.

12:35:44 From Jill Riggs to Host and Panelists:

Is there as much humor in Emily books?

12:35:44 From Holly Ludlow to Host and Panelists:

Love the blue castle too

12:36:04 From Marci Forney to Everyone:

I really enjoyed The Blue Castle....

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

12:36:27 From Amber Cummings to Everyone:

I haven't read The Blue Castle

12:36:28 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

Valancy is my favourite book heroine ever! My favourite book too. It has always been so important to me.

12:37:15 From Meganne Arens to Everyone:

I just got the Blue Castle last year and have only read it once but need to read it again to dig into it more. I really enjoyed it though.

12:37:38 From Kim Stewart to Everyone:

I'm getting goosebumps as you're talking about Emily, Kate. So happy to be here listening to you.

12:37:51 From Chris Acree to Host and Panelists:

Such an interesting discussion!

12:38:02 From Stacy Stewart to Everyone:

Do you know much about the inspiration behind Among The Shadows, which is classified as tales from the darker side by Montgomery.

12:38:08 From Amy Cox to Everyone:

Oh yes, Emily and the Flash...and Valancy...they both shall forever be kindred

12:38:36 From Angela DeCoux to Everyone:

I'm such a name person, and the name Valency Stirling as it rolls off your tongue is just so charming.

12:38:39 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

It sounds familiar but not sure if I read that one.

12:38:57 From Julianne Lawrence to Everyone:

Thank you for sharing your love for The Blue Castle. I recently purchased it and plan on reading it soon!

12:39:04 From Jessica Carr to Everyone:

so excited to read these

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

12:39:04 From Annie Wieler to Everyone:

I'm so inspired to read the Blue Castle now! I'll be reading it next!:)

12:40:46 From Nicole West to Everyone:

Hello from Brisbane Queensland, just listening for a little before starting work.

12:41:19 From Marci Forney to Everyone:

I like L.M.M.'s versatility.

12:41:46 From Amy Cox to Everyone:

Can you tell us more about her Aunt Mary's influence on her life and writing...

12:41:52 From Denise Young to Everyone:

How would you describe how Montgomery touched on the themes of race and class?

12:42:15 From Emily Murgolo to Everyone:

Hello, thank you for doing this for us! I have a question regarding how ahead of time Lucy Maud Montgomery was similar to Jane Austen :). One of my favorite books in the Anne series apart from the first is Anne's House of Dreams. I just listened to it recently, so it is the one that has been on my mind from her.

12:42:18 From Emily Murgolo to Everyone:

How do you believe she was ahead of her time, if so? I think of the topics in House of Dreams and wondered if some were even taboo for her to write about such as loss of a child, mental illness, all the hardships Leslie went through, etc? She is just an amazing author!

12:42:21 From Jill Riggs to Host and Panelists:

So true!

12:42:22 From Kim Stewart to Everyone:

Having just recently re-read Emily of New Moon, I remember laughing out loud. But it can also depend on where your mind is at the moment.

12:42:32 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

I love that & often think that. What would LMM do?

12:44:22 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I would like to ask, do you feel as well, that Anne of Windy Poplars feels sort of different than other books.

12:44:37 From Amy Cox to Everyone:

Thank you so much ❤️

12:44:43 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

What was everyone's thoughts on "Rilla of Ingleside?"

12:45:20 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

I really love Rilla! It is separate story, but it really touched my heart.

12:47:03 From Emily Murgolo to Everyone:

Thank you so much for sharing! How amazing and brave Montgomery was for not shying away from those topics. :)

12:47:04 From Marci Forney to Everyone:

I am SO grateful for these wonderful writers. They helped changed the world for women.

12:47:47 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

Thanks!

12:47:54 From Shaquanna Haile to Everyone:

What was that last book, Anne of Windy Poplars?

12:47:56 From Julie Viorel to Everyone:

I agree Marci

12:48:13 From Sharon Aurora to Host and Panelists:

For sure.

12:48:13 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

I did not care for Anne of Windy Poplars but I would have to read it again.

12:48:39 From Amy Cox to Everyone:

So so true 🌸

12:50:08 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

I think in some ways, Louisa May Alcott is also similar to Lucy Maud Montgomery in the way she writes. Both excellent writers.

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

12:50:26 From Kim Stewart to Everyone:

It is amazing just how forward thinking Montgomery was, probably without even knowing it. Could she have "imagined" how much of an influence she has had and continues to have in the literary world as well in people's personal lives. Not really a question, but rather more something to ponder.

12:51:43 From Elizabeth Morgan to Host and Panelists:

My daughter's middle name and I remember being in the delivery room saying the spelling out loud, Anne with an E!

12:51:43 From Jessica Carr to Everyone:

I haven't given Anne with an E a fair shot though

12:51:45 From Jill Riggs to Host and Panelists:

But I really like both in different ways!!

12:51:58 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I seen both

12:51:59 From Denise Young to Everyone:

What's the conflict between Kevin Sullivan and the Montgomery heirs?

12:52:03 From patricia lev to Host and Panelists:

seen both

12:52:05 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

I loved Anne with an E, but I think it was not that accurate to the books.

12:52:06 From Jessica Carr to Everyone:

have not watched Anne with an W all the way thru

12:52:12 From Jennifer Williams to Everyone:

Yes, I've only seen Anne with an E, so that's my favorite.

12:52:13 From Ashley Craig-Diaz to Everyone:

I really enjoy Anne with an E but feel like the Sullivan is more authentic

12:52:16 From Rainey Williams to Everyone:

Anne with an E was cute too. But I like the other one best

12:52:18 From Julie Viorel to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I have seen both and totally prefer the Sullivan

12:52:20 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

I believe I have seen both but I did not care for the other.

12:52:23 From Elizabeth Morgan to Host and Panelists:

I watched some of Anne with an E but stopped because it was not as good as the Sullivan version in my opinion.

12:52:25 From Mary Williams to Host and Panelists:

I've seen both

12:52:26 From Mary Gaudet to Everyone:

I've seen both and didn't care for Anne with an E

12:52:28 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

i love movie/shows being the book

12:52:32 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

I've seen them both. Really thought Anne with an E tried hard not to be true to the original.

12:52:33 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

I've seen both & liked them both but far & away it will always be Sullivan for me

12:52:36 From Erin Davis to Host and Panelists:

I've seen both and prefer Sullivan

12:52:43 From MX Payne to Everyone:

I have watched Anne with an E as well but the Sullivan version has just a certain charm.

12:52:45 From Jessica Carr to Everyone:

Sullivan is very much a comfort movie for me

12:52:47 From Amber Cummings to Everyone:

I haven't seen Anne with an E, but saw Sullivan

12:52:52 From Megan Neel to Host and Panelists:

I've seen both, but was not a fan of Anne with an E. I didn't feel it followed Anne authentically and highlighted the dark in her story maybe a bit too much.

12:53:05 From Emily Murgolo to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I have seen both. I think Katherine mentions, the Sullivan series is nostalgic to me and I grew up with it. But I do believe Anne with an E was able to dive more into deep parts of Anne's character. Especially the imaginary world of hers.

12:53:11 From Michelle to Everyone:

I've watched some episodes of Ann with an E...but really like and enjoy Sullivan..

12:53:17 From Susan Taylor to Host and Panelists:

After several episodes of Anne-E I stopped watching as it felt rather dark compared to Sullivans was uplifting

12:53:28 From Julie Oliver to Host and Panelists:

I didn't like Anne with an E. It was too dark...felt alien from the books.

12:53:33 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I agree with Emily

12:53:41 From patricia lev to Host and Panelists:

the actress, meghan, is a grounded loveo

12:53:42 From Michelle to Everyone:

yes, felt Ann with E was a little to dark

12:53:51 From patricia lev to Host and Panelists:

lovely woman

12:54:06 From Emily Murgolo to Everyone:

But I lean towards Sullivan because of all the nostalgia and the warm feelings I get every time I watch it. :)

12:54:09 From Michelle Riley to Everyone:

Anne with an E 😡😞

12:54:17 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

Yes

12:54:36 From Rebekah Sweet to Everyone:

I think Sullivan just really captured the spirit of the books with the actors, actresses, music, setting, etc.

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

12:54:38 From Erin Davis to Host and Panelists:

Me too, every time I hear it I get teary

12:54:56 From Mar Aguilar to Everyone:

I totally agree!

12:55:10 From Elizabeth Morgan to Host and Panelists:

Totally agree, the Sullivan soundtrack is ever present in my mind. I love it too Hayley!

12:55:11 From Jessica Carr to Everyone:

my mom introduced me to the Sullivan movies and in many ways Marilla reminded me of her.

Matthew, my dad

12:55:13 From Megan Neel to Host and Panelists:

I agree, Rebekah :) it's absolutely a masterpiece

12:55:29 From Jessica Carr to Everyone:

special indeed

12:55:40 From Sinta Borland to Everyone:

I did like Anne with an E as an adult but I like and the Sullivan story for a childhood read.

12:55:51 From Emily Murgolo to Everyone:

I apologize if this has been asked already, but do you have a favorite character, apart from Anne, in the Anne series? To be honest, Rachel has been growing on me. :D

12:56:17 From Julie Oliver to Everyone:

I LOVE that Lucy was an Austen fan!!!

12:56:18 From Michelle Riley to Everyone:

I can see some Emma in Anne

12:56:29 From Denise Young to Everyone:

Just finished Mansfield Park yesterday

12:56:29 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I love that too

12:56:47 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

We share a love of a person with a person we never met

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

12:56:56 From Julie Oliver to Everyone:

I agree...Anne reminds me most of Lizzy and Marianne

12:57:05 From Annie Wieler to Everyone:

I didn't know that Lucy was an Austen fan! I love that!

12:57:46 From Sanna Jurvanen to Everyone:

That is such a sweet fact to learn! Thanks!

12:57:46 From Gina Henderson to Everyone:

Catherine Morland had an amazing imagination too!

12:57:58 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

Catherine did
