THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

16:05:16 From Mary Beth Gale to Host and Panelists:

I admire Jo, but identify with Meg

16:05:18 From Lisa Gallagher to Host and Panelists:

Hello from RAINY Reading PA!

16:05:21 From robin fusiak to Everyone:

Meg

16:05:23 From Dahra Mautone to Everyone:

Hayley you feel like a Meg!

16:05:32 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

It has always been Jo, but when I re-read as a young mom, I related more to Meg and Marmee.

16:05:34 From Christine Watkins to Everyone:

I like that you asked that you relate to not necessarily your favorite. Im an Amy

16:05:41 From Mary Beth Gale to Host and Panelists:

Lots of the real Amy's art at Concord house

16:05:45 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Everybody wants to be Jo, it seems. Even if they're an introvert! Lol

16:05:48 From Mary Beth Gale to Host and Panelists:

I mean Orchard house

16:05:48 From Amy Cox to Everyone:

Much love to you all today, from Arlington, TX 🌸💖

16:06:21 From Jacqueline Haines to Host and Panelists:

I related to Beth's desire to be home with her family around her.

16:06:30 From Olivia Weaver to Host and Panelists:

Jo

16:06:30 From Sambriddhi Rana to Everyone:

I am mixture of jo and meg.

16:06:33 From Rose Sladky to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

Hi from Virginia! I love Amy the most, I think she's super underrated and reading the book especially gives you her perspective when she's older. I relate to all the sisters in different ways though!

16:06:37 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

Yes! I wanted to be a writer. I even wrote my own Pickwick when I was about 10.

16:06:44 From Abbie Rogers-Lee to Everyone:

lol, not me clicking Meg when I meant Amy... whoops. Icon for going for what you want

16:06:49 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I'm a Beth. Everyone says it

16:07:40 From Deborah Winter to Everyone:

Marmee was so wise.

16:07:49 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

That's so nice to say. To be all sisters at different parts of life

16:08:09 From Sharon Aurora to Host and Panelists:

Same here. It changed several times throughout my life.

16:08:18 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Jo is romantic in a classic lit kind of way—melodramatic, theatrical, and poetic like Lord Byron-esque/Mary Shelleyish way.

16:08:37 From Angela DeCoux to Everyone:

I've been sickly most of my life, and bedbound the last 4 years, so Beth holds a special place in my heart. I've always felt most comfortable at Home

16:08:42 From Annelies Dease to Host and Panelists:

I agree.....definitely Meg. That is my daughters name too ❤️

16:08:50 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Host and Panelists:

Same

16:08:57 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

Same

16:09:05 From Jillian Diauto to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

16:09:15 From Heidi Thibodeau to Everyone:

I just purchased her biography of Louisa May Alcott a couple of weeks ago!

16:09:27 From Olenka Arias Segura to Everyone:

16:09:44 From Sabrina SingerTowns to Host and Panelists:

16:12:02 From Bri Joyce to Host and Panelists:

I have 2 sisters and was first introduced to little women in 3rd grade by my teacher and have loved it ever since 💕📖

16:12:17 From Jillian Diauto to Everyone:

Mine was through my mother as well.

16:12:22 From Angie McCain to Everyone:

My grandmother gave me the book.

16:12:24 From Dahra Mautone to Everyone:

Yes! My great-aunt gifted me a copy when I was 6 years old

16:12:32 From Sharon Aurora to Host and Panelists:

Not my Mom, but I read Little Women to all of my kids.

16:12:46 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

Makes my Librarian heart very happy :) Libraries were always my happy place too

16:12:55 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

I have my Mom's copy that she signed her name to when she was a child.

16:12:56 From Jill Topham to Everyone:

My mother let me read her old Little Women book. My favorite of my mom's books was Jo's Boys. 💕

16:13:03 From Sarah Thompson to Everyone:

for me it was first though my grandma and the movie... then the book. but very special with my grandma. especially its soundtrack 💕

16:13:10 From Lisa Kimmence to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I found a very old copy of the book when I was a teenager. I read it and it was the first book that truly took me some place else. It is my favorite book of all time!

16:13:16 From Lynette Strohbach to Everyone:

I didn't receive it from anyone!

16:13:17 From MX Payne to Host and Panelists:

My mum gave me a copy of Little Women when I was 8 or 9 :)

16:13:21 From Margaret Murtagh to Host and Panelists:

My mother gave me my Little Women and I still have it. I treasure it.

16:13:25 From Jordan Pescud to Everyone:

To my knowledge, no one else in my family has read it :(

16:13:33 From Deborah Winter to Everyone:

I picked it up in a store shopping with my family and I had to buy it because I knew intuitively that it was special. I was 10 and it has been my favorite book ever since.

16:13:39 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

An in-law would often give me things from her younger daughter. I believe she gave me my copy of Little Women. My mom was a holocaust survivor and had never read any children's lit, other than Heidi.

16:13:41 From Helen Nordseth to Everyone:

Neighbor was an English professor who supplied me with books!

16:13:43 From robin fusiak to Everyone:

I think I probably got it from the library or at school

16:13:44 From Annelies Dease to Host and Panelists:

This book was a gift from my mom and dad, and a Beth madame Alexander doll. My father died shortly after. The book will forever touch my heart.

16:13:56 From Abigail Reiter to Everyone:

My best friend when I was in high school!

16:14:06 From Kim Rossetti to Host and Panelists:

My mom gave me my first Little Women book for Christmas

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

16:14:11 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I would love to know someone with a supply of books

16:14:13 From Marci Forney to Host and Panelists:

My Mom have me the book when I was ill and home from school.

16:14:16 From Abbie Rogers-Lee to Everyone:

My oldest sister first introduced me to Little Women. She wrote all of the time.

16:14:20 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

I also first checked it out from the Library

16:14:30 From Alissa Zappia to Host and Panelists:

My mom introduced me to the book, and I introduced my daughter.

16:14:34 From Mary Beth Gale to Host and Panelists:

I got it from the library

16:14:34 From Heidi Thibodeau to Everyone:

I first found it at the library as well.

16:14:35 From Michelle Hancock to Host and Panelists:

My Mother got me & my sister the movie in 1994 and we read the book with my Grandma!!

16:14:37 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I read the book after my mom told me I was missing out on such a good book

16:14:38 From Mariana Sánchez to Everyone:

My aunt had a short versión at her house and I read it there, it was the first book I read by myself

16:14:40 From Caitlynn Rasamee to Everyone:

The movie inspired me to read the book!

16:14:43 From Elizabeth Morgante to Everyone:

I used to read to my mom (while she ironed!) and the abridged version was one of the first books we read that way. She passed down her books to me...Eight Cousins, Rose in Bloom etc..

16:14:50 From Shari Harper to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

Actually from my dad. He was an author and gifted me my first copy from the Whitman Classics Library.

16:14:52 From Michelle Riley to Everyone:

iI didn't read it until I took a college course on Children's Literature

16:15:01 From Sara Langley to Host and Panelists:

My Aunt , she gave me so many beautiful classics.

16:15:03 From Ashley Diaz to Host and Panelists:

My first introduction to Little Women was a Louisa May Alcott biography!

16:15:08 From Jennifer Gatto to Everyone:

My mom took me to the library and introduced me to the book

16:15:10 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I have children's literature now

16:15:57 From Deborah Winter to Everyone:

If anyone has watched the series "My Brilliant Friend" which takes place in Italy and is about two little girls, did you notice that they were reading Little Women together. It shows up all the time.

16:15:59 From Amy Cox to Everyone:

It was a multigenerational gift in my family...all the women have loved it, in some ways lived it. I have my Mom's childhood copy, which she read until it was in tatters.

16:16:00 From Ashley Diaz to Everyone:

My first introduction to Little Women was a Louisa May Alcott biography!

16:16:01 From Annalisa Gomez to Host and Panelists:

I am reading it to my unborn niece right now

16:16:10 From Jillian Diauto to Everyone:

These stories are making me so emotional. I love seeing them. My mother introduced me to the books and my love for reading. When I was a kid she ran a bookstore called The Paperback Booksmith. My mum passed away a couple years ago and I have started revisiting all of these stories. One of my favorite childhood memories and this has been very healing.

16:16:15 From Denise Young to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

Learned of Anne of Green Gables by watching Road to Avonlea to TV as a kid

16:16:58 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

I learned about the Little Women by homeschooling my girls in early 2000s...who read the book after watching the 1994 version., which we still love today.

16:17:00 From Millicent Elizalde to Host and Panelists:

My first introduction to the story was from a school play. ❤️

16:18:44 From Sheryl Haight to Everyone:

What is the exact name of Anna's Diary?

16:19:26 From Jacqueline Haines to Host and Panelists:

I did a reader's theatre with the residents at an assisted living where I was the Activities assistant. It was so touching to see how emotionally attached these women, average age 92, were about Little Women. Many were in tears. And they also had passionate opinions on how Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy should be portrayed.

16:19:37 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

I love that is healing for you, Jillian. What beautiful memories to have to give you comfort. Hugs to you

16:20:17 From Sambriddhi Rana to Everyone:

16:20:46 From Madeleine Farrell to Everyone:

My sc

16:21:57 From Madeleine Farrell to Everyone:

My elementary school librarian introduced me to Little Women in 4th grade, and I have loved it since then. I'm now a grandmother of 8, so far. I still love it most and have reread it many times.

16:22:10 From Bri Joyce to Host and Panelists:

Love that !

16:23:02 From Madeleine Farrell to Everyone:

I got to go to The Orchard house this summer, finally!

16:24:06 From Mary Beth Gale to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I went for the first time this summer as well.

16:26:06 From Lisa Schauer to Host and Panelists:

My mother in law introduced me to Anne of Green Gables, Little Women, and Sense and Sensibility when my children were little, and the love of these was passed down to my daughter. My mother in law has passed, but I will forever be so grateful to her for putting the love of these great books in our hearts. 📖❤️

16:26:19 From Christine Cassidy to Host and Panelists:

That's a very long walk, I used to live in Lexington

16:26:24 From patricia lev to Everyone:

yes, i live in boston and can imagine the walk from concord! oh my!

16:27:05 From Dahra Mautone to Everyone:

hearing this just makes my eyes water

16:27:10 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

What an incredible story!

16:27:20 From MX Payne to Host and Panelists:

That's amazing

16:27:25 From Annalisa Gomez to Host and Panelists:

so beautiful!

16:27:32 From Sambriddhi Rana to Everyone:

such a beautiful story!

16:27:58 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

What a lovely story

16:28:03 From Jacqueline Haines to Host and Panelists:

That's amazing!

16:28:07 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

I had no idea

16:28:19 From Madeleine Farrell to Everyone:

Amazing. What a journey. Can you imagine life without this book?

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

16:28:21 From Lynette Strohbach to Everyone:

So many authors had to try many times to get published!

16:28:22 From Helen Nordseth to Everyone:

Loving hearing about the actual family dynamics!

16:28:49 From Marci Forney to Host and Panelists:

What a wonderful, fantastic story!

16:29:14 From Deirdre Eagles to Everyone:

Such an amazing story.

16:29:51 From Helen Nordseth to Everyone:

Hayley, are you a writer as well?

16:32:36 From Emilie Nicklawsky to Everyone:

Did they use the Pilgrim Progress book as they were growing up?

16:32:53 From Wendy Ziegler to Host and Panelists:

Was Louisa's mother raised as a Transcendentalist ?

16:33:12 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

Louisa was the man of the family. She went to war, was injured via illness which she had all of her life, endured a hard childhood, and eventually became the family's sole supporter.

16:33:22 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

I didn't know there were diaries. I'll definitely plan to read them now.

16:34:13 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

is the Diaries of Marmee the book title?

16:35:59 From patricia lev to Everyone:

hawthorne and Emerson and others all lived in concord. it's fascinating how they encouraged and supported one another.

16:36:33 From Wendy Ziegler to Host and Panelists:

Such a wonderful answer, thank you.

16:36:44 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

Marmee and Lousia is one newer book that talks a lot about the papers from Marmee.

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

16:36:55 From Kimberly Razon to Host and Panelists:

My Heart is Boundless

16:36:59 From Kimberly Razon to Host and Panelists:

Is the title

16:37:16 From Angie McCain to Everyone:

Looks like the title is My Heart is Boundless.

16:37:18 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

Fun fact, Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau were acquainted with the Grimke sisters, who arguably founded the woman's rights movement in the United States and who were advocates of the abolitionist movement. I wonder if Louisa May Alcott met them too.

16:37:18 From Jennifer Peterson to Everyone:

My Heart is Boundless

16:37:21 From Brittney Wichard to Host and Panelists:

My Heart is Boundless

16:37:30 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

16:37:43 From Margaret Murtagh to Host and Panelists:

I admire her steadfastness.

16:38:11 From Dahra Mautone to Everyone:

Thank you Jennifer!!!

16:39:59 From Bri Joyce to Host and Panelists:

Yeah

16:40:25 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

I've heard that her novel "Work: A Story of Experience" is also a semi-autobiographical novel. Have you read it? If so, how does it relate to "Little Women" and would you recommend it?

16:40:47 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

She listens to her inner muse rather than paying attention to social niceties...

16:40:50 From RuthAnn Purchase to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

do any of their writings discuss how they relate to local Nipmuc?

16:42:09 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Anne met her beau because of her “flaw”...”Carrots”!

16:42:49 From Angela DeCoux to Everyone:

I have very mixed emotions, too!!!

16:42:52 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Because LMA refused to cave to her readers’ insistence...

16:43:03 From Annelies Dease to Host and Panelists:

I always pictured Laurie and Jo ❤️

16:43:04 From Margaret Murtagh to Host and Panelists:

He was nowhere near her intellectually.

16:43:15 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

Oh wow.

16:43:24 From Bri Joyce to Host and Panelists:

Mixed emotions too!

16:43:34 From parker Burdette to Host and Panelists:

I genuinely think that she loved Laurie solely as a brother. I think Bhaer brings a calmness and maturity that counters her chaos very well

16:43:36 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

Oh my goodness

16:43:48 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

There are so many types of love and Jo’s love not what we seek in a partner. I have mixed emotions, but can understand Jo.

16:43:50 From Kimberly Razon to Host and Panelists:

I live close to Concord, I can’t wait to go to the library and see that. 🥰

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

Jo really liked Laurie but was not in love with him. When I first read it, I was upset they did not end up together. But when I read it as an adult, I understood why Jo said 'no." Jo and the Professor are better suited and Laurie and Amy are better suited.

16:44:01 From Lisa Kimmence to Everyone:

I feel their friendship was truly beautiful and I like that they did not get married and kept it as a pure kinship.

16:44:08 From Marisa Stefatos to Host and Panelists:

I have mixed emotions too! I found it so upsetting when I first read it that she didn't love him back.

16:44:14 From Deborah Winter to Everyone:

I agree 100%.

16:44:15 From Annelies Dease to Host and Panelists:

I liked that version 🤔

16:44:20 From Jill Riggs to Host and Panelists:

Are we going to Concord library, Hayley?

16:44:34 From Sheryl Haight to Everyone:

I think she felt if they got married they would lose their friendship.

16:44:38 From Lynnette Badger to Everyone:

There's always a little sadness that she doesn't end up with Laurie. But I loooove Professor Bhaer and them together!

16:44:42 From Sharon Aurora to Host and Panelists:

She probably didn't want the friendship to change,

16:44:43 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Didn't LMA have an affair with a Laurie-like fellow in Europe?

16:44:45 From Lynette Strohbach to Everyone:

It wasn't meant to be. They weren't right for each other.

16:44:46 From Annalisa Gomez to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

If she married him, then she would have gotten the status of rich people, she may have lost her voice

16:44:52 From MX Payne to Host and Panelists:

When I was younger, I was rooting for Jo and Laurie but now that I'm older, I think Jo and Mr Bhaer together makes sense.

16:45:02 From Susan Bryant to Everyone:

I think if she would have said yes to Laurie, the rest of her life would have been determined without her control.

16:45:14 From Jordan Pescud to Everyone:

To my core I don't believe Jo and Laurie should have ended up together. I have always felt that Laurie misinterpreted a sisterly love for Jo as romantic. I also feel like he just wanted to be a part of the March family, no matter what.

16:45:19 From Caitlynn Rasamee to Everyone:

I think at first I valued their friendship and equated it with love, but later on I realized that they weren't right for each other

16:45:54 From Denise Young to Host and Panelists:

I think Jo from Little Women says no to Laurie and says yes to Mr. Bhar because the former represents a traditional romantic expectation, while the latter embodies a genuine and deep connection based on intellectual and emotional compatibility.

16:46:04 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

That's what I think.

16:46:35 From Marisa Stefatos to Host and Panelists:

Jo had to find herself first and explore more about her life. I think they were both young and still figuring out who they were. Jo was connected to her independence and found someone who was right for her when she was ready.

16:47:03 From Meridell Gracias to Host and Panelists:

Love as friends/almost-siblings not the same as romantic erotic passion which is beyond explanation

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

16:47:04 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

I've always thought she picked a romanticized version of her father, and a man who would need Jo to work (in the school) because he had no money.

16:47:05 From Stephanie Harzewski to Everyone:

Speaking personally as a teacher, many teachers are married to other teachers, like doctors marrying doctors, as Jo & Prof. B. share a commitment to books and learning. Prof. B. and Jo have more of a meeting of minds. But I think Laurie worshipped the ground she walked on and that is a very valuable man to have! :)

16:47:36 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Wasn't Prof B an Emerson stand-in?

16:47:51 From Claire McDonald to Everyone:

so she could write Little Men?

16:47:54 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Fan girl moment for LMA?

16:48:00 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I feel like she wanted to show that not every woman ends up with the perfect ending. Most books ended up with perfect endings

16:48:04 From Marie Saenger to Host and Panelists:

Maybe she wanted to explore a romantic scene and experience it through writing it because it was absent in real life???

16:48:05 From robin fusiak to Everyone:

I'm a romantic! I wish she had married Laurie. He loved her so much and knew her so well

16:48:20 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

I think she would have liked Joe to remain single, but felt pressure to have Joe married.

16:48:21 From Jordan Pescud to Everyone:

I think the most recent movie has done a good job of endearing people to Laurie and Amy's relationship too.

16:48:29 From Michelle Riley to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

Maybe she just had to get it out on the page, Just to get any possibility out of her system. Then write what she wanted to happen

16:48:53 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Maybe Jo and Laurie were both parts of LMA's soul?

16:49:04 From Claire McDonald to Everyone:

Do you think Louisa had Little Men in mind

16:49:05 From Jacqueline Haines to Host and Panelists:

I don't think she wrote it in to appease her audience. I've always seen Jo as being wise and insightful. She knew that Laurie was more in love with the March family than her.

16:49:08 From Lisa Schauer to Host and Panelists:

I do like the professor, but do feel as others, that Laurie so loved her. I love reading everyone's thoughts on this.

16:49:19 From Meridell Gracias to Host and Panelists:

Did Louisa eve express a desire for children of her own?

16:49:43 From Ana Benavides to Everyone:

For any Succession fans... was it underlined or a strike through? haha

16:50:17 From Olenka Arias Segura to Everyone:

She was a woman out of her time.

16:50:47 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Laurie and Jo are very cozy in Little Men. Amy's a nonstarter in that book—it's all about Jo and Laurie!

16:51:04 From RuthAnn Purchase to Everyone:

I think Louisa definitely loved him, did not respect people who worshipped the ground she walked on, or were too romantic. She was a realist and valued all aspects of her humanity.

16:51:53 From Kimberly Razon to Host and Panelists:

Yes, she had a big crush on Emerson

16:52:34 From parker Burdette to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I don't think Jos character arc would've been complete if she hadn't married Bhaer. Jo struggles with the line between romance and staying true to herself and by the end of the book it shows how she found that divide

16:53:03 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Local heroes, too, and a literary club she wanted to join!

16:53:57 From Sambriddhi Rana to Everyone:

That's great

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

1994 movie adaptation :D

16:54:16 From Annalisa Gomez to Host and Panelists:

Just saw the 1994 one

16:54:16 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

Love the 1994!

16:54:16 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

I like 1994 and the new version

16:54:17 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

I love the 1994

16:54:20 From Christine Edwards to Everyone:

The 94 version. Winona was the best Jo. Excellent cast!

16:54:21 From Jillian Diauto to Everyone:

94

16:54:22 From Julie Viorel to Everyone:

I love the 94 version

16:54:22 From Kimberly Razon to Host and Panelists:

2019 - Jo is the closest to the real LMA

16:54:23 From Marisa Stefatos to Host and Panelists:

I love them all too

16:54:24 From Robyn Vandewalle to Host and Panelists:

Yes, 1994.

16:54:24 From Deborah Winter to Everyone:

Nora Ephron's version.

16:54:26 From Denise Hyde to Everyone:

I love the '94 version, also!!

16:54:27 From Lisa Kimmence to Everyone:

My favorite is the 1994 version.

16:54:27 From Nicole Karwatka to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

- The masterpiece classics one is my favorite
- 16:54:31 From Sarah Bryan to Host and Panelists:
Absolutely the 1994
- 16:54:31 From Lynette Strohbach to Everyone:
I like them all equally!
- 16:54:32 From robin fusiak to Everyone:
1994. Loved Winona Ryder
- 16:54:32 From Wendy Ziegler to Host and Panelists:
1994
- 16:54:34 From Natalie Helms to Everyone:
2019! Saoirse, Timmy, and Florence were perfect
- 16:54:36 From Lynnette Badger to Host and Panelists:
94, but also the version with Elizabeth Taylor as Amy! I grew up with both.
- 16:54:39 From Marie Saenger to Host and Panelists:
I love 1994, but really like the new one, too!
- 16:54:39 From Claire McDonald to Everyone:
94 and PBS series
- 16:54:39 From Zulu Reyes to Everyone:

94 version!! ❤️

16:54:52 From Ashley Diaz to Everyone:

I adore the 1994 one! I still listen to the soundtrack daily. The Greta Gerwig one was so well done and I love that soundtrack, too

16:54:53 From Michelle Riley to Everyone:

2019

16:54:57 From Samantha Grasso to Everyone:

i like the 1949 version

16:54:57 From Denise Hyde to Everyone:

I also like the one with June Allyson and Peter Lawford

16:55:01 From Jordan Pescud to Everyone:

1994 I think is the best overall BUT I like the new one for the metanarrative and the development of Amy

16:55:05 From Lisa Kimmence to Everyone:

Kathleen Turner played Jo I think

16:55:06 From Lynnette Badger to Everyone:

It's sooooo good!

16:55:18 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

Liz Taylor is in the second version, from MGM. Kate Hepburn was the first Jo.

16:55:23 From Jacqueline Haines to Host and Panelists:

I loved all the adaptations but Winona Ryder is who I think mostly closely matched my vision of Jo.

16:55:27 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

The new one is excellent but is MUCH more agenda-driven. GG is brilliantly pointed about money and women.

16:55:31 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

1994 is probably my favorite, but I do like the new one too

16:55:35 From Gabrielle Foster to Host and Panelists:

16:55:36 From Denise Young to Host and Panelists:

1994

16:55:40 From Lisa Kimmence to Everyone:

That's who it was. Kate Hepburn not Turner!

16:55:45 From Jennifer Williams to Everyone:

1990s version is my favorite, but it's the one I saw first and have seen the most.

16:56:14 From Adeline to Everyone:

I do agree with you the 1940's is a good adaptation its very similar to the book

16:56:15 From Gabriella DiCaprio to Everyone:

The tv show was good

16:56:18 From Jacqueline Haines to Host and Panelists:

The PBS was absolutely beautiful.

16:56:19 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Yes, June Allison was Jo in that one with Liz Taylor as Amy. Margaret OBrian was a marvelous Beth!

16:56:21 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

pbs 2017!

16:56:22 From Alyssa Green to Everyone:

I feel like they all have such amazing casts. The 1994 one was what got me hooked on this story so I will always have a special place for that one but the 2019 one is such a great modern way to tell the story without changing it,.

16:56:23 From Ronda Kelley to Everyone:

Can't go wrong with BBC/PBS

16:56:29 From Jordan Pescud to Everyone:

The 2019 might have been my favourite if it wasn't for the costumes..

16:56:32 From Alexa Joy to Host and Panelists:

94 version for me too,

16:56:35 From Diana Millett to Everyone:

I loved the PBS one too!

16:56:46 From Marisa Stefatos to Host and Panelists:

I truly loved all of them because it's so interesting to compare and contrast...

16:57:07 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

I remember that scene. I felt the same way. I was like. Yes 🙌❤️

16:57:11 From Heather Mcloughlin to Host and Panelists:

I loved the musical of Little Women but it wasn't a film

16:57:21 From Claudia Vásquez to Everyone:

June Allyson was Jo. (1949)

16:57:29 From Sambriddhi Rana to Everyone:

I love both the 1994 and the new adaptation of Little Women, but now I'm sure I'll watch the Elizabeth Taylor version.

16:57:32 From Madeleine Farrell to Everyone:

I feel like the current one is more Jo as LMA than the book Jo. Though its an honor, I think it takes away from the book she wrote. I don't mean to take away from the ones who love it, but thats why its not a favorite.

16:57:34 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

Yes

16:57:59 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

June Allison was a spunky Jo!

16:58:02 From Michele Blake to Everyone:

PBS in Boston is still showing the TV version in reruns. It might be available on PBS Passport if you are a national member.

16:58:14 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

And let's talk about hot young Prof B in the latest version?!? Goodness!

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

16:58:32 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

I do enjoy all three of the film Jos. All different, but all Jo - she had so many dimensions.

16:58:39 From Jill Topham to Everyone:

Love the 1994 one, but haven't seen the others!!! Something to add to my list of things to do this year!

16:58:44 From Meesha Mckie to Everyone:

That's true with Katherine Hepburn.

16:58:47 From Laura Weidenthal to Host and Panelists:

I've learned to adapt to the adaptations because I think its great to keep these classic pieces of literature in the forefront and something as a stepping stone for future generations to keep discovering these wonderful books.

16:58:54 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

Kate Hepburn declared herself the ultimate Jo (modestly). 🤔

16:59:13 From Rose Sladky to Everyone:

I didn't like they wrote that in the movie...it was never in the book and then they have Jo going to accept him only to find out Amy has married him and I feel like that undermines Amy and Laurie's relationship...Jo doesn't regret that-they're better off as friends and Laurie and Amy truly love each other and Laurie says his love for Jo has changed-he loves her as a sister but loves Amy romantically and that he would've fallen in love with Amy in the end

16:59:30 From Abigail Reiter to Everyone:

Modern version sounds so fun!

17:00:02 From Marisa Stefatos to Host and Panelists:

Yes. So fun!

17:00:11 From Renee Van Hoy to Everyone:

I think because it takes place with the Civil War as a background, it would be hard to have a modern version set in the US. That was so significant.

17:00:12 From Rose Sladky to Everyone:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

He said his love for Jo was a boyish love but he loves Amy as a man and she's the only one who actually gets him to change, Jo didn't

17:00:43 From Marline Williams to Host and Panelists:

I never believed Laurie falling for Amy. I think he wanted to wed his way into the March family and Amy was the only available sister!

17:00:44 From Heidi Thibodeau to Everyone:

The modern version came out in 2018, stars Lea Thompson as Marmee.

17:00:58 From Nicole Karwatka to Everyone:

there is a YouTube series that is a modern adaptation

17:01:01 From Zulu Reyes to Everyone:

My thoughts exactly, Rose!

17:01:05 From Jacqueline Haines to Host and Panelists:

I wouldn't be interested in the modernization of Little Women.

17:01:13 From Elizabeth Morgan to Host and Panelists:

That's a great great book, The Penderwicks!!

17:01:14 From Jennifer Gatto to Everyone:

Yes!

17:01:23 From Rose Sladky to Everyone:

I love the Penderwicks! I've been hoping you'll choose one for your book club Hayley!

17:01:51 From Sambriddhi Rana to Everyone:

Can you please tell me the name of the book you mentioned again?

17:01:54 From Claire McDonald to Everyone:

I think the PBS mini series does it justice, even though I grew up on the black and white versions which are so nostalgic

17:01:59 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

That's true

17:02:00 From Annelies Dease to Host and Panelists:

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

I agree....I could not accept the Anne with an E version of AOGG. To modernize a classic is uncomfortable to me.

17:02:04 From Sarah Thompson to Everyone:

I'm just thinking of the movie Inventing the Abbotts that came out late 90s. about different types of sisters and men.

17:02:21 From Stephanie Floyd to Host and Panelists:

I love love this bookclub.

17:02:25 From Christine Watkins to Everyone:

Kinda like Cueless is a spin on Emma.

17:02:31 From Christine Cassidy to Host and Panelists:

I think I'll watch one of these tonight, I need a refresher!

17:02:31 From Laura Weidenthal to Host and Panelists:

I haven't read Little Women since I was little. Need to :-)

17:02:45 From Heidi Thibodeau to Everyone:

There's a modern book version of Little Women titled "Hello Beautiful," by Ann Napolitano

17:03:41 From Christine Edwards to Everyone:

I've read Hello Darlings. It's inspired by Little Women. Differs in many ways. It's a good book - but very sad. Cried a lot reading it.

17:03:50 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

I just finished reading Marmee and I loved it.

THE ENCHANTED BOOK CLUB

17:11:34 From Jamie Cronin to Host and Panelists:

I love that Jo was not afraid to be her authentic self. That is what I admire about her!

17:11:39 From MX Payne to Host and Panelists:

That was beautiful

17:11:39 From Katherine Smitherman to Everyone:

Thanks Liz and Hayley! This was wonderful.

17:11:58 From Stephanie Harzewski to Everyone:

That she's not afraid to be her and tries to follow her true north, even as a young and fairly inexperienced person. Yes, Liz, she follows her own path, even if she hasn't seen much of the world yet, and that takes confidence and self possession.

17:12:07 From Susan Bryant to Everyone:

Thank you so much for this opportunity. As the mother of a daughter named Amy Beth, I have truly enjoyed this evening. <3 It has been lovely!

17:12:08 From Kim Rossetti to Host and Panelists:
